Are Individuals Actually Making Money Internet Marketing? - You Can Make Cash On the internet

I was required into a job change and didn't know what I was going to do. My wife is a stay at home mom to our little girl, the home, all the bills and abruptly I didn't have a job. I did have a small savings but not as much as necessary. I tried getting a new job in my business but with the downturn there were 10 applicants for every job.

It was out of fear that I started surfing the make money online sites. I started to get accustomed with some of the language and there seemed to be so much out there I had to pose the question to myself, are people really making money affiliate marketing?

What Is Internet Marketing Anyhow

In the beginning I had to find out what affiliate marketing or affiliate marketing was. What I found is that affiliate marketing is when one markets a product for a business on the internet, when a sale is made you get a fee. At first it sounded too difficult, a long shot. I have never been a commission guy, I like a stable income. I did my investigation and then I started doing the math.

There are tens of thousands if not hundreds of thousands of companies that have affiliate marketing plans. There are billions of people on the internet everyday and many of them, perhaps even more than 50% of them buy things on the internet. Then the reply was obvious, people ARE making money affiliate marketing. What do I need to learn for affiliate marketing?

There are a lot of diverse websites, programs, books and so on out there that claimed to demonstrate me affiliate marketing methods. I am an interactive student - meaning I do best when I have somebody to teach me, to answer my questions, to give me a shove when I get stuck.
